

CLAIMS BODH SHOT OFFICER HOBSON IN SELF DEFENSE

Yesterday afternoon, after Mrs. S. G. Dye testified the state rested its case against August Bodh, charged with an attempt to kill Deputy Sheriff J. L. Hobson and the attorney for the defendant made his opening statement to the jury and the introduction of testimony was begun.

Mrs. Dye told the jury that she was with her husband, at the intersection of Twenty-seventh street and Washington, when the trouble between Bodh and her brother, the deputy sheriff, took place and that she saw Bodh fire the shot at Mr. Hobson. Mrs. Dye states that she did not see all of the actions of Bodh and the deputy sheriff as she became very much frightened and had a slight fainting spell. She said, however, that she saw both men strike at each other and saw Bodh, as he recoiled into the crowd, half running, shoot twice at her brother. The deputy sheriff fired a shot after Bodh had fired the second time. Her husband, County Clerk Samuel G. Dye, grappled with Bodh and aided in subduing him.

In his opening statement, Attorney Hartson stated that he expected to show in the trial that Bodh, the defendant, fired at Officer Hobson in self defense and that he fired the first shot only because he was a little quicker in getting his gun from his hip-pocket than was the officer. He maintained that Bodh had no thought of shooting until he saw the officer reach for his gun and that he did not know the man was an officer. He said it would be shown that Bodh thought the officer to be some workman connected with the strike at the machine shops and felt that his life was in danger. It was also stated that the young man was intoxicated at the time of the trouble and was not altogether responsible for his actions. The attorney claimed that the defendant had always borne a good reputation and had purchased the revolver that day to take with him to Butte, where he expected to get work.

A number of witnesses were called to testify to the character of the defendant, each of them stating that he bore a good reputation for peace and quiet in the neighborhood where he resided. They all stated, however, that they knew of the young man's arrest last December for creating some trouble with his sister with whom he was living, and that he was taken to the city jail.

Darrell J. Greenwell testified that he was at the county jail when Bodh was being searched by the officers and that Deputy Sheriff Hobson struck him a heavy blow in the face while the prisoner was handcuffed. The testimony was objected to by Attorney De Vine for the state on the grounds that it was an act which occurred subsequent to the time of the act complained of against the defendant, but the objection was overruled and it was stated by the attorney for the defense that the question was asked to lay a foundation for impeachment proceedings against the officer.

David Edlund was called to the stand and he testified that he was with young Bodh the night the shooting occurred and that they had been drinking to quite an extent. He stated that Bodh purchased three bottles of beer, giving him two of them to carry. On the way to Twenty-seventh street, Bodh bumped against him, knocking him to the ground and breaking the bottles. A dispute arose as to whether the beer bottles had been broken and Bodh was taken back to the place where they fell upon the sidewalk to see for himself. As they returned to the corner of Twenty-seventh street, Officer Hobson came along and, grabbing Bodh by the right arm, commanded them to "cut it out," whereupon Bodh made a pass at the officer and the officer returned the assault. At this the witness said he left the scene and did not see the shooting. He also claimed that Bodh was under the influence of liquor.

VAUDEVILLE SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

First Pantages Bill at Orpheum Theatre Will Be Excellent.

The Alexander Pantages vaudeville, famous both east and west, will be seen in Ogden tomorrow night for the first time, and from all indications will find a happy home. The management of the Orpheum is indeed fortunate in securing the booking of this popular form of clean amusement for the Orpheum patrons and, with the reduction in prices, a host of new patrons is looked for each performance. The opening bill is a good one, as good in fact as many of the higher priced shows. The program is headed by Willard's Temple of Music and is one of the best ever seen in Ogden at popular prices. The acts are varied enough to suit the most blasé theatre patron and novelties on the bill make it more than worth while for those who like the unusual in vaudeville.

Willard's Temple of Music is a revelation in the way of instruments and equipment. It is a tremendous act in size and the entire stage is required for the setting. The instruments are beautifully played and the unusual effects secured by means of electrically operated buzz saws and similar instruments are seldom seen on the vaudeville stage of this country.

Charles Kenna as "The Street Faker," is a gem. He starts the laughs early and keeps them going at a lively clip. His monologue is new and witty and the performer himself is a star. Donita and her company of one are two good entertainers, and the lady is off the beaten path in her conception of singing and facial work.

The Three Troubadours are three good singers and their songs are refreshingly new. In "The Favorite," the Fern-Bennett company have an excellent sketch and they play it splendidly.

The thrills and throbs of the bill are taken care of by the La Vallas, a man and comely maid who do all sorts of alarming and sensational things on bicycles on a slack wire.

The bill closes with motion pictures of all the latest current events and happenings throughout the world. Two shows will be given tomorrow night, the first at 7:30 and the second at 9:15. Friday and Saturday a matinee will also be given. The management announces that prices will never change from 10, 20 and 30c.—Adv.

PARCEL SHOWER

Monday evening the home of Miss Myrtle Hoover, 2215 Lincoln avenue was the scene of festivities in honor of Miss Marie E. Hartog and R. N. Young and Miss Pearl Peek and Richard O. Tucker who were to be wedded the following day. The guests were members of the Fraternal Brotherhood with a few outside friends who gathered to offer congratulations and wedding remembrances to these popular young people with whom so many happy evenings had been spent during the past few years.

The home and grounds were effectively lighted and the beautiful decorations in white and gold were artistically arranged, making a lovely setting for the merry party. In the parlor the cozy corner where the guests of honor were seated was laced with streamers of white and gold and flowers added to the attractiveness of the room.

Festoons of white and gold made a pretty canopy over all. Piano selections by the hostess and Miss Grace Geiger, duet by Miss Winnie Geiger and Miss Elean Couch, songs by Miss Couch and little Ruthie and Cleo Geiger diversified the evening's program but the Fraternal marriage ceremony with Arthur O. Willard as minister, Mrs. Anna Boyle and Percy Cook and Mrs. Charles Christensen and L. A. Boyle with Ruth and Cleo Geiger, flower girls, Miss Myrtle Hoover and Miss Grace Geiger, bridesmaids, comprising the bridal party, was the star performance of the evening. Fascinating remarks and sage advice being added at appropriate intervals for the edification and instruction of the honor guests, who were left to guess what possible practical joke at their expense might be tucked up the sleeves of the merrymakers.

Anna Boyle, bride number one, wore a white lingerie gown with white lace, long train and lace veil and the groom, convulsed the witnesses by appearing in a farmer's straw hat and linen duster with gay bandana trailing from the pocket. Bride number two, Mrs. Della Christensen wore an embroidered white crepe gown and the groom, an ancient Prince Albert suit lined with bright orange and having lace frills at the wrist. The bridesmaids wore salmon pink satin with shadow lace overdress and the little flower girls, Ruthie and Cleo Geiger wore dainty little white silk dresses. Nothing was omitted by the participants in this pseudo wedding that would add to the effectiveness of the occasion.

The following marriage ceremony was read with solemn mien by Mr. Willard: "Mr. Blank, you are about to enter into a contract with an honored member of the Fraternal Brotherhood, therefore, do you hereby solemnly swear, in the presence of these members, to take this woman to be your partner, whom you are required to escort to luncheon this evening, observing and keeping in mind that her husband is in our midst."

"Do you so agree?" "Mrs. Blank, you hereby covenant and agree, in the presence of these witnesses, to accompany Mr. Blank, who has just promised to escort you to luncheon this evening, observing and keeping in mind the fact that his young lady friend is our honored hostess."

"Do you so agree?" "You may join your left hands. My friends, by this act of joining your left hands, you seal upon yourselves the sacred relationship of partners to supper, and each with the other mutually agrees and covenants to remember the real brides and grooms here this evening, and also the other hungry guests."

"Do you both so agree?" "Have you a ring?" "While the groom places the ring on the bride's hand, the minister shall say, asking the groom to repeat after him:

"By this token, I do escort thee to supper, and will endeavor to keep one watchful eye on your husband. Now, by virtue of, and in accordance with the honor vested in me as a member of The Fraternal Brotherhood, I do pronounce you guests at the wedding reception of our guests of honor this evening, and I invoke the best wishes of the other members present tonight to help you keep your covenants and to aid you in the pursuit of a happy and enjoyable evening together."

"You may NOT salute your partner, as her husband is standing near you."

A temptingly prepared menu, nicely served in the dining room which had been made especially attractive for the occasion and a speech by Dr. Alice M. Ridge, toasts to the guests of honor, sidebreaking forecasts of their future with sage remarks by the impromptu minister, the cutting of the ring cake and the finding of the ring by C. S. Geiger, who was promptly announced to be the next benedict and the final social hour and good-night song from "Modern Eve" by Ruthie and Cleo Geiger, will be long remembered by all present.

Miss Hartog and Miss Peek received many beautiful gifts.

Those present were: Mesdames Anna Boyle, Henry Klenke, Charles Christensen; Misses Myrtle Hoover, Reta Hartog, Marie Sanford, Grace Myles, Elean Couch, Winn and Grace Geiger, Marie Hartog, Pearl Peek, Ruthie and Cleo Geiger, Dr. Alice M. Ridge, Messrs. R. N. Young, Richard O. Tucker, Arthur Willoughby, Percy Cook, Frank Davey, Lorin Boyle, C. S. Geiger, Henry Klenke.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Flaherty and daughter, Ruthie Jarvis, have returned from a visit with relatives and friends at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

TO ATTEND SCHOOL

The Misses Ruth and Edna Wattis left yesterday on the Los Angeles Limited for Chicago, where, after visiting for a short time with their sister, Mrs. William Rice Kimball, they will go on to Washington, D. C., to attend school at Mount Vernon seminary during the coming winter. They were accompanied by their brother, Earl Wattis, who will spend about three weeks on a sightseeing trip in the larger eastern cities, including New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington and other points of interest.

LUNCHEON

Mrs. Daniel Ensign entertained at a delightful luncheon in Ogden canyon yesterday afternoon. The following were guests: Mesdames Joe Thomas, Nathaniel J. Thomas, Dalrymple, H. C. Bigelow, A. P. Bigelow, Van Meier, A. W. Walker, R. E. Rydholm, T. Q. Doe, R. Porter, P. F. Lyghendall, E. O. Wattis, R. T. O'Donnell, August Bicker, Charles Hollingsworth, R. S. ## SCHOOL INSPECTOR FOR THE STATE OF UTAH

Meashall Hall, state high school inspector, is in Ogden today and spent practically all morning and afternoon at the Ogden high school. The duty of the inspector is to see that all state requirements are fulfilled. He makes his report to the state board of education. The high schools of the state must observe certain conditions to receive apportionments from the high school fund secured by the one-half mill tax.

The inspector must know that the members of the faculty possess college degrees and the prescribed course of work is being carried out. He found the Ogden high school to be in an excellent condition.

Since there are forty high schools in the state, Professor Hall is busy attending to his inspection duties and his duties in the University of Utah.

A pessimist would rather be a wet blanket than be able to set the world on fire.

HUNDREDS AT WORK IN THE CANNERIES NEAR OGDEN

Reports from nine of Weber county's factories today, disclosed the fact that 752 people are employed and the plants are being run to capacity. The weather is declared ideal for the canning of tomatoes and the consensus of opinion among canners is that the canning season will continue until about October 15 and perhaps later. Tomatoes from every part of the county are reported to be of good quality and of excellent flavor.

So heavy is the call for the products of the Utah canneries, however, that the plants must be run to capacity for at least a month in order to fill the demand. The canners already hold orders for more tomatoes than can be canned.

The number of employees in the various factories is as follows: Wasatch, 75; Star, 75; Hooper, 50; Riverdale, 50; Utah Canning Co., 150; Utah North Ogden factory, 40; Salt Lake Valley, 125; Roy, 85; Wright-Whittier, 102.

One of the canners, who accompanied the governor's party to the various factories, reported that some of the canneries in the vicinity of Kayville were having difficulty in securing enough tomatoes to keep the machinery going.

The report the governor made upon his return to Salt Lake, following his visit to the Weber canneries, was favorable and the local canners are pleased that the governor and inspectors found nothing to criticize.

Peaches are being canned in some of the factories. William Craig stated today that his factory is working to capacity handling both peaches and tomatoes, which are being received in great quantity.

PROTOGRAPH OF THE PARADES AT THE FASHION SHOW

There will be parades galore during the Fashion show, September 26 and 27. Already there are five big feature parades and a promenade on the program and more may follow. The general program is as follows:

Friday, 10 a. m., parade of school children.

Friday, 4 p. m., baby parade.

Friday, 8 p. m., grand illuminated automobile parade.

Saturday, 10 a. m., motorcycle parade.

Saturday, 2 p. m., industrial parade.

Saturday, 8 p. m., grand promenade of eccentric characters, masked and costumed.

Roland Ballantyne is chairman of the motorcycle parade committee and he is lining up the 183 motorists of the city. L. P. Herdtl is assisting in the work. The committee promises that at least 85 per cent of the motorcycles will be in line. All will be fancifully decorated. Two cups have been purchased and will be on exhibition in Smalley's window today. The cups will be the first and second prizes to be given to the motors, which, according to the judges, are the best decorated.

As the motors will be required to run slowly, the crowd that parade will hear such a volley of reports from the gasoline engines as will bring to them memories of sham battles, old time celebrations of the Fourth of July, or a first class old-fashioned melodrama played by ten guns and eight actors. As an exclusive motorcycle parade is a novelty in this city, the committee expects to have a number of motorists come to Ogden from surrounding cities to see this feature.

Another novel parade will be that of the school children. Complete plans for that parade will be made at the meeting of the board of education this evening. It is planned to give the children an entire holiday. The feature will be that the children will be costumed to represent various nations.

All the daylight parades will be photographed with a moving picture camera and the carnival scenes will be a feature of an interesting reel of the day made by the Alhambra Picture house company of Ogden with its own machine, operated by R. L. Noggle, the photographer. Already a number of interesting scenes have been photographed on the reel. Some excellent views of the South Fork dam have been made accompanying industrial and agricultural scenes. The reel will possess added interest with the carnival scenes, the company believes.

Mothers who wheel their babies in the baby parade will have the added pleasure of seeing themselves and babies in the picture houses, for the reel will be shown here before it is sent elsewhere. Through the motion pictures, people living away from Ogden will get an idea of our industries through representative acts in the industrial parade.

Voting for Queen Autumn continues with enthusiasm. Blocks of tickets have been purchased by the Oracle, Isis, Globe, Orpheum and Ogden theatres and votes will be given with tickets. In addition, a number of stores are giving votes with purchases. The list of candidates placed in nomination is as follows:

Miss Minnie Kiesel, Mrs. M. S. Browning, Mrs. Harold Peery, Miss Gladys Rich, Mrs. Teressa Horrocks, Miss Hazel Jackson, Mrs. Ralph Hirsol, Miss Minnie Brown, Miss Lillian Wright, Miss Ruth Wattis, Mrs. L. R. Eccles, Miss Daisy Maginnis, Miss Helen F. Miller, Miss Helen Towne, Miss Verna Tavey, Miss Edna Simms, Miss Alton Stringham, Mrs. Ray Ryan, Miss Nellie Forrest and Miss Ada Flanagan.

PRESIDENT OF CLUB TO HELP EXTEND WHITE WAY

Dr. H. M. Rowe, president of the Weber club returned to Ogden this morning from a visit to his ranch in Cimarron, Colo., and he will at once resume his duties as head of the committee urging the extension of the "White Way" on a limited scale up Twenty-fifth street to Harrison avenue and along the car line on Jefferson avenue. Contracts are now being prepared by the Utah Power & Light company and the Ogden Rapid Transit company and the co-operation of the city will be asked. It is planned to make the proposition three-sided, as the original "White Way" was established.

In Rowe stated that a number of people are leaving the orchards in the region of Grand Junction, Colo., for the reason that the land was purchased at such a price that the farmers have been unable to keep up their mortgages.

General conditions in Colorado are excellent, according to the president, but he also stated today that this part of Utah is looking exceedingly prosperous as compared with other districts.

The hand that rocks the cradle usually also gets next to most of the "rocks" in hubby's pocket.

BOUQUET AND CHECK SENT TO WIDOWS OF OFFICERS

At the recent meeting of the Ogden police department it was voted to take from the policemen's fund amounts to be sent to the widows of policemen who have died since the fund was established. Today, Chief W. I. Norton sent four bouquets of flowers and four checks to Mrs. C. Brown, Mrs. John Cooney, Mrs. James Rackham and Mrs. Al Herrick with an accompanying letter.

The basis of the fund was the net receipts of the policemen's ball held last winter at the Colonial hall. Although the fund is not large, the members of the department felt that the widows of the patrolmen who were interested in the association should have the share that rightfully belongs to the husbands.

The following letter was sent with the flowers and checks:

"At the time of your husband's death, we had accumulated from our policemen's ball a fund which belonged to the police department. We had not effected any organization, as we had anticipated neither have we done so yet, for the reason that our fund was not large enough to justify an organization by which we could pay a reasonable death claim."

"By dividing that fund equally among the officers of the department it would amount to $17.01 to each member and that would be each member's share of that fund; and by unanimous vote of the department, at our last meeting, we are sending to each of the widows of our departed brother officers $25 of this fund, which we desire that you accept, together with the accompanying flowers, with our best wishes for the health, happiness and prosperity of you and yours, and in the meantime desiring to remain, your true friends, The Ogden Police Department, By W. I. Norton, Chief."

How a girl does hate to have red cheeks just after coming out of a dark hall with a young man who needs a shave.

Many Women will want to get First Choice from the NEW FALL DRESS GOODS AND SILKS and for a good reason, too.

The women of this city who make most of their clothes, realize the advantage of choosing their dress materials early. They have learned from past experience that early choosing is also best choosing.

When you buy your dress pattern early, you get it fresh off the bolt while there is still all the newness and freshness to it you could possibly desire. You can also make your dress leisurely and have it ready to put on, the very first time the chilly winds of Fall make warmer garments necessary and comfortable.

In the matter of cost, the same moderate prices rule now as they will during the entire season.

We must also call your attention to our superior showing of Silks and Trimmings.
